OFF THE WALL the Rumor center

ADD to Box 1, Belfast, NY 14711: Area 51, Radio CSA, WGLR...

ADD to Box 109: KAMP...

ADD to Box 28413: Fake Alan Masyga Project, Radio Nine...

BIG NEWS: due to ever-increasing Box rents, Box 452 officially closed at the end of August. However, Box users should NOT panic: Box 452 is replaced by an even easier address to remember: PO Box 1, Belfast, NY 14711 --AND-- all mail will be forwarded from Wellsville until 31 August 1997. Nothing should get lost in the move. The USPS has simply priced their micro-cubical out of sight. PLEASE spread the word...

I have mail for Hip-Hop Radio, but no idea where to send it. If the Op would be so kind as to contact me, I'd be happy to forward it...

The mystery about Box 17534 continues. Although more than one person reports having mail returned from that Box as "addressee unknown", Radio Zebulon announced it and mail to them has not *yet* been returned. Additionally, RBCN was on with his Olympic Special and still announces it. So why is some mail addressed to Radio Bob being returned? Any info would be appreciated by all...

By golly; a few EuroPirates finally made the trip across the pond! Ed Rausch and Joe Filipkowski report hearing Free Radio Service Holland during special tests on either 6275 or 6290, and I actually managed a log on Radio Marabu on 6250 - all on the weekend on 10/11 August. Now why didn't anything show up all winter, when conditions were better..?

And here's the ever-popular, trademarked Gripe List! Germany's Rainer Brandt is totally upset about the failure of Radio Doomsday, Radio EXP and East Coast Beer Drinker to expedite QSLs back across the pond.

Getting Ready for FM

It truly begins to look as though our friends at Free Radio Berkeley, among others, have finally broken the FCC's monopoly on the FM broadcast band. So far, they have not been able to persuade a US Circuit Judge to issue a "cease and desist" order against Steven Dunifer, which may be opening the door for a true local broadcasting service - as envisioned by the original Communications Act of 1934.

Without seeming to encourage anyone to rush out and fire up their transmitter(s), it would seem worthwhile to check equipment and acquire good antennas. Ahh, that's the problem. Where do you find decent FM antennas? That Radio Shack yagi can be used, but it's 300-ohm at the feedpoint and most transmitters are 50-ohms; that much of a mis-match can fry your expensive xmtr, so it would take some extra hassle.

However, there are a couple sources of quality - and GAIN! - verticals, if you have some cash to part with. Austin Antennas [603 335-6339] makes a 1/2-wave over a half-wave colinear for about $140-150. Bozak Antennas [518 373-8069] makes a 5/8th-wave vertical with three radials for about $90. Both verticals will give about 3 db gain making a 10-watt signal the equivalent of 20 watts effective radiated power, are sturdy and weather-proof, and are delivered cut to your desired frequency.

Back to that RS yagi; it CAN be used if you're technically inclined, and would be worthwhile if you're on the fringe of a population area you wish to cover. You'd have to make a matching balun from a length of scrap coaxial cable. Complete details cannot be given here (and I'd have to hunt them up anyhow). Suffice it to say there are ways to get a small station going, if you have the means.

RADIO DEMOCRAT INTERNATIONAL MORE STABLE NOW

Radio Democrat International, the anti-Nigerian government English language clandestine, has gone through a period of over a month without making any frequency or time changes in its schedule. During the summer I have been contacted by a number of DXers who reported failure in trying to hear this station, caused by the fact that they were changing frequencies or times every two or three weeks. The schedule instability has stopped, at least for the moment. As was the case last month, Radio Democrat International is heard on a daily basis on 6205 kHz at 2100 UTC.

Be advised that rumors have circulated of additional forthcoming changes. In Numer One #1383, Finn Krone of Denmark cited a report from Lund-Sweden that the station changed its name on July 14 to Radio Kudirat, in memory of the murder of prominent Nigerian political dissident Abiola's wife. Subsequent monitoring of the station by me found that as I write this column, the name change has not been implemented. From time to time the station has asked listeners to suggest better times and/or frequencies, leading to suspicion that another schedule change might be forthcoming. But, so far this has not happened. I have noticed no jamming of the station's signal, so it has little need to jump frequencies. The rapid schedule changes that it made in its early days mainly had the effect of confusing listeners. Now that they have settled on 6205 kHz for a while, their audience should be used to it.

Even if you're not normally a clandestine DXer, I think that you would find the transmissions from this one to be interesting. Signals have been at least fair to good in most of North America. The entire program is in English, so you can hear the political attacks on the Nigerian government. Programming tends to be variable. I have listened on days when almost the whole show consisted of Afro-pop music, with almost no political content. On other days, virtually the entire show consists of political speeches and attacks on the government. Compared to the shrill content of former Central American clandestines, which often featured bullet sound effects and other rebel military symbolism, Radio Democrat International is actually a calm voice. If you hear it, let us know.

The station still does not acknowledge its transmitter site, which now is known with certainty to be the Meyerton transmitter complex of Sentech in South Africa. If you want the transmitter details, <http://www.sentech.co.za/meyerton.html> on the web will give them to you. They not only have the full schedule, but they also have two pictures and two maps of the transmitter. Thanks go to a tip from Jerry Berg in Massachusetts on this site from Numer One #1387.

VOICE OF THE MASSES REACTIVATES

The Voice of the Masses, a long-standing Iraqi clandestine voice, has been off the air for five years since its transmitters were destroyed by USA forces during the Gulf War. Several sources report that Iraq has reactivated this clandestine broadcaster, including an item on the Agence France Press wire that was sent in by DXer and ABC News staffer David Alpert (KB2LUM) of New York. AFP says that the clandestine originally began transmissions in May 1970, broadcasting "to Iraq's Arab neighbors to spread the ideology and policies of the ruling Baath party led by President Saddam Hussein. After Iraq invaded Kuwait in 1991, the clandestine attempted to build popular support against the United States coalition that eventually attacked Iraq.

BBCMS via Monitoring Times reports that the station actually reactivated on July 17 with a schedule of 0300-2100 UTC on 531, 585, and 693 kHz. The signal is jammed, and BBCMS reports that reception outside Iraq is generally not good. Obviously this makes them a nearly impossible catch for those of us in North America. But, if you're on the east coast with a long antenna at your house (or at a DXpedition under these conditions), the split medium wave frequencies might have some chance of reaching us as winter conditions enhance medium wave reception.

FMLN MEETS IN EL SALVADOR

The Farabundo Marti National Liberation Front hosted a meeting of leftist parties from Latin America and the Caribbean in San Salvador between July 26-29. The annual event, called the Sao Paulo Forum because its initial 1990 meeting was in that Brazil city, drew 187 delegates and 289 invited guests. Issues discussed included the USA blockade of Cuba, Mexican democratization needs, problems of economic development, etc. Thanks go to ACE member Ulis Fleming of Maryland, who sent in a discussion of the Forum from The Militant, Volume 60, Number 30. Notably absent from the five page e-mail that Ulis sent was any discussion of clandestine radio, such as the FMLN's famous Radio Venceremos.

CLANDESTINE DEFINITION

ACE member Marina Pappas of South Dakota writes in with a question related to how a clandestine station is defined. In particular, she wonders if three stations who buy time on licensed broadcasters can be considered to be clandestines, specifically La Voz de Alpha 66, the Democratic Voice of Burma, and American Dissident Voices. She also wonders if the Ku Klux Klan-oriented pirate, CCC Radio, is actually pigeon-holed in the clandestine category.

We went through an elaborate round-robin analysis process a few years ago when the ACE awards program began to offer an award for clandestine QSL's. Numerous prominent DXers, both inside and outside ACE, participated in this process. I'm not sure that we finally resolved all questions to everybody's satisfaction for awards purposes. Some DXers preferred to count only QSL's from bona-fide pure clandestines with unknown transmitter sites. Some wanted to count pirate broadcasters with consistent clandestine-style content, including the old fascist Voice of Tomorrow and CCC Radio, but others did not think that these were genuine clandestines.

Some wanted to count stations who buy relay time on licensed transmitters, as long as they had bona-fide clandestine content to their shows. La Voz de Alpha 66 is a good example of this. The station was busted repeatedly for operating a mobile unlicensed transmitter from southern Florida, and everybody agrees that these old transmissions on 6666.6 kHz were pure clandestine broadcasts. But, they now buy time on WHRI for the same shows. Obviously, WHRI's licensed Indiana SWBC transmitter is not a clandestine, but Alpha 66 is a somewhat more ambiguous case. The Burma broadcasts from a known Norway transmitter are a similar example. Finally, although the station will of course not confirm it, it is very widely assumed that the American Dissident Voices neo-fascist National Alliance program on WRNO and other licensed stations is the modern-day version of the old pirate/clandestine Voice of Tomorrow.

We still occasionally see arguments about which (if any) of these stations are actually clandestines. These borderline cases will probably never reach unanimous consensus in the hobby, one way or another. I'll answer Marina's question in the context of this column. In the Clandestine Profile we use a "looks like a duck" standard, similar to the old Supreme Court position that the justices knew pornography when they saw it. Many clandestines are using new technology, such as licensed relays when they can't afford a transmitter and they can't get access to the local media in a target country. Alpha 66 is a good example of this. Even the pure clandestine Radio Democrat International is using a World Radio Network satellite feed to reach its transmitter, which we all assume is in South Africa. For purposes of this column, we take a pretty liberal view of such things. If we didn't, clandestine stations worth listening to might shrink substantially, and interest in the field might vanish nearly altogether in the hobby. If Marina or other ACE members wonder about the criteria being applied by the ACE awards program for counting clandestine station QSL's toward awards, she should direct her inquiry to our esteemed Awards Program Coordinator, John T. Arthur, via RD #1, Box 15A, Belfast, New York 14711.

NEW LIBERIAN STATION APPARENTLY NOT A CLANDESTINE

Numerous DXers were very surprised to hear a new Liberian shortwave broadcaster, Radio Liberia, on 5000 kHz during July. The station announces that it is the shortwave service of the Liberian Communications Network. Signals have been pretty good, so DX interest soared. Among those who heard the new operation was Lee Silvi of Ohio. During the second week of July he heard them regularly on 5000 kHz from 2000-0100 UTC. But, by July 21 the station moved off the time signal frequency to 5100 kHz, where it still remains today. Lee notes that signals are pretty good around 2300. I note that signal levels may improve at earlier hours as sunset moves to earlier times as we enter the fall. Lee says that the frequency is somewhat variable at times, creeping up as high as 5103 kHz on some occasions.

BBCMS says that the station announces a schedule of 0500-1800 UTC on 6100 kHz (sic) and from 1800-0200 on 5100 kHz. The North American logs that I have seen have been for the 60 meter frequency, not the 49 meter channel. The station announces an address c/o Kiss FM 89.9, PO Box 1103, Monrovia, Liberia. They announce a telephone number of [-231] 226963, and they ask for reception reports. Unfortunately, Lee found that the US Postal Service currently delivers no mail to Liberia, and because of this embargo, they returned Lee's reception report to sender. But, according to Jerry Berg in Número Uno #1384, the station's FAX number at (231) 226-003 works for reports, with faxes to the attention of Liberia Communications Network Engineer in Charge Isaac P. Davis.

Lee and other DXers wondered if this station might be a clandestine. Early reports had the station associated with forces of Charles Taylor in the continuing Liberia civil war. But, BBCMS reports that Jess Masada, the assistant information minister for public affairs at the Liberia Ministry of Information, praised the station. It seems clear that LCN is a private company that operates FM stations in the country. So, it appears that this new Liberian is not a clandestine.

ALAN MASYGA FINDINGS

Our regular reporter and ACE member Alan Masyga of Minnesota sends in a couple of items on the quasi-clandestine front from USA licensed stations. He found a program on WWCR claiming to be the anti-Christ at 2100 UTC on 9475 kHz August 4. The show stated that its frame of reference was socialism and atheism, unlike most of the other WWCR program schedule, unless you count Glenn Hauser. Alan said that he followed instructions by sending a postcard for more information via Post Office Box 8055, Des Moines, Iowa 50301, and he promises to let us know about any results.

Alan also mentions once again that the pirate stations who have been using his name in their identification, specifically the Alan Masyga Project and KAMP (Krazy Alan Masyga Project), DO NOT use Alan's Minnesota home address as maildrops. So, you should not send reports to Alan. The "Project" station uses Providence, while KAMP uses Blue Ridge Summit. In a related matter, my QSL from "Project" (via Providence) says that they have no hard feelings against Alan, and that they hope that everybody lightens up about this particular parody. On the other hand, they say that their voice reading Alan's address over the air is the actual voice of Alan himself, lifted off a taped report. Hmm.

REPUBLIC OF TEXAS

Nothing has materialized on the early 1996 threat of the Republic of Texas movement to operate a 50 Kw medium wave station. But, the political movement is still regularly in the news in Texas. ACE member Gigi Lytle sends in a copy of the July 22 Lubbock Avalanche Journal. The front page notes that the Republic of Texas sent a "legal notice" to all Texas banks, saying that they must apply to the Republic of Texas Treasurer Darrell Dean Franks for a charter within 30 days, or else they would be shut down. Exasperated and/or angry comments were in the article from Texas governor George W. Bush, Texas banking commissioner Cathy Ghiglieri, Texas Bankers Association general counsel John Heasley, and others.

CLANDESTINE NEWS

The explosion in pirate activity during 1996 has been noticed by all of us. One of the side effects of this has been that my two page space allocation for the Monitoring Times "Outer Limits" column gets quickly eaten up by pirate logs. Thus, the magazine does not have space to fully cover recent clandestine news. In particular, BBCMS maintains a constant flow of information on changes in clandestine station broadcasting. Some of this can be very useful to us for DXing purposes, while other information is just interesting. Here is the latest stuff that would not fit in MT, but that might be helpful to the ACE membership:

Voice of the Oppressed bombed by Israel. The Voice of the Oppressed, operated by Hezbollah, suffered damage to its building on the road between Nahlah and Baalbek in Lebanon. BBCMS quotes Radio Lebanon and the Voice of Lebanon, both in Beirut, with information on an August 8 bombing raid. BBCMS says that the Voice of the Oppressed was off the air between the 8th and 13th of August, but it returned to 684 kHz on August 14. An earlier bombing raid had silenced the station between April 14 and July 22 this year. Although it's on a split frequency, here's another next-to-impossible target for us.

Voice of Southern Azerbaijan. Yet another anti-Iran clandestine has emerged. This one targets the northwestern Azerbaijan region, announcing a schedule of 1530-1630 UTC on 12090 kHz that has been confirmed by monitoring. Interestingly, the station has a telephone number in the Netherlands of 00 31 703 192189 in addition to their radio broadcasts. A tape sent to BBCMS by Victor Goonetilleke of Sri Lanka says that calls to this number are recorded on cassette and sent to the station, including reception reports. So, this could be a QSL route for those who hear this operation. The station's complaints are basically that the Azeri minority is discriminated against in Iraq.

Voice of the Iraqi Communist Workers Party. This one uses 4000 kHz for an hour of Kurdish at 1530 UTC and an hour of Arabic at 1630 UTC. BBCMS notes that the Iraqi Communist Party recently reorganized, since the station has been celebrating the party's third anniversary. The old party went back decades.

Voice of the People of Kurdistan. This one sometimes makes it in to North America during the winter DX season, using 4110 and 6300 kHz for two hours in Kurdish at 1500 UTC followed by 90 minutes of Arabic at 1700 UTC. BBCMS says that although unconfirmed, the station announces repeat broadcasts starting at 0300 UTC, presumably on the same frequencies.

Voice of the Struggle of Iranian Kordestani. BBCMS says that it heard this station in Kurdish on 4250 kHz with an hour of Kurdish at 1500 UTC. Good luck on this one from North America; you'll need it.

Voice of Mojahed. This anti-Iran clandestine voice of the Mojahedin-e Khalq organization was spotted by BBCMS around 1815 UTC using 4450, 4650, 5150, 5450, 5750, 6175, and 7075 kHz. They noted that most frequencies were jumping to avoid heavy jammers, and that there was some audible time lag between the frequencies, suggesting different satellite feeds to different transmitters.

Voice of the Worker. Here's another illustration that the middle east remains a hotbed of clandestine stations. BBCMS found this one at 1500 UTC on 3940 kHz. On this frequency, they are at risk of QRM from both 80 meter amateurs and Europirates that inhabit the area.

THANKS!

As usual, this month we thank several DXers who sent in material direct to this column: David Alpert (New York), Alan Masyga (Minnesota), Ulis Fleming (Maryland), Lee Silvi (Ohio), Marina Pappas (South Dakota), Gigi Lyle (Texas), and George Zeller (Ohio). Next month we all hope to hear from YOU by September 21 for the October Clandestine Profile.

Contributions towards the goal of increasing & spreading knowledge of Part 15 microbroadcasting are greatly appreciated; this is YOUR column! Please send all your loggings, QSL's, station information, tapes, broadcast schedules and what-have-you to the address above, to arrive by the 15th of each month.

MICRO-MINI CHEAP RADIO! Wowee, zowee! Thanks to a reader and a fellow ACE member, I was turned on to a neat-o-cheap FM transmitter! This little booger is ready-to-go, no assembly required, only a mating cable and a line-level-input source [tape deck, CD player, etc] and it's from a surprising source: Radio Shack! I'll call my friend "Mr. Tony" - first his assessment, then some info of mine:

"Bud, if you've ever been to R.S., you may have stumbled upon their small FM transmitter called "Silent Play" [catalog # 270-1715] and was originally intended to be hooked up to a Nintendo or a Sega & listened to any FM receiver within 20 feet of the device. It runs on 2 AAA batteries and is NOT very powerful. The antenna is a thin [30 ga. or so] wire approx. 15" long [I measured it at 22" b.s.]. The mismatch must be horrible, yet this alone can carry over 1-1/2 blocks away. The input jack is a 1/8" & takes stereo or mono inputs - it broadcasts in mono or stereo" [selectable]. "With the "antenna" stripped & hooked to a R.S. 72" telescoping whip, range is GREATLY extended! I live on a hill that overlooks a small town - the signal BLANKETED the area, and a mile away, I could still hear my signal - bits and pieces, but still my signal! This [unit] sells for $19.95 [but] has been discontinued last year & I obtained my Silent Play for 25% of that price." Thanks, "Mr. Tony"! He also mentions that, due to it using 2 AAA batteries, it cannot possibly come near the max allowable Part 15 power, but his location will be a definite advantage to his operation! Thanks, "Mr. Tony". Let me know what else develops!!!

Here is what I found: after talking to "Mr. Tony" and reading his follow-up letter, I just HAD to check out one of the local R.S. stores. The manager [a friend of mine] found several units packed away with no possible sales. I picked them up for a shameful discount [the boxes were marked $39.99] and immediately came home to PLAY AND EXPERIMENT! Here is what I found...

The "Silent Play" is a transmitter/receiver pair - both are identical in shape & size -[approx. 4" h X 2-1/4"w X 3/4"d], but they are marked clearly. Both are tunable, the TX fro, approximately 88 to 93 MHz, the RX fro, 88 to 108 MHz with a front-panel knob. The TX is mated to the respective video game with the proper cables; the RX is worn by the player with a comfortable earbuds so the mom & dad aren't driven nuts by the "bink-bonk" of the games!

Of two TX's I tested, one is tuned from 87.25 to 92.73 MHz, the other, 88.73 to 93.25 MHz; I didn't check for stability over a time period; however. After cracking the case [2 screws, two tabs, one screw on PCB - careful!], I found what seems to be a tunable FM stereo oscillator. Off one leg of the front-controlled tunable capacitor, there was a 12 pf fixed cap to ground. This could possibly be changed to a different value or better type for a frequency change or stability, respectively - or to a variable type to be even more frequency-agile. There was a JRC chip with the markings "2035D A2002A" and a transistor marked "TC9108" on board for which I could find no "crosses" for in my ECB or NTE crossover manuals. Probably a stereo generator & buffer, respectively. As for the power output, I tried to detect the RF on a 1-watt VHF meter; I couldn't detect any power! Probably have to use a voltage-to-RF power equation later, but I know there is output! Unless you have a very good VHF frequency counter, the best way to tune the TX is to tune a good digital receiver to an empty frequency, then tune the TX to full-quiescent while monitoring that frequency. Throw the audio to it & check for clear audio!

Other improvements would be to feed this little beastie with a stable and regulated 3-volt power supply [a 1 amp capacity should be more than enough] and solder the + & - leads to the respective battery connectors in the compartment. Next, couple the TX to a GOOD resonant antenna, preferably a dipole. By attaching the wire to one element [treat the wire as part of the dipole!] and soldering a resonant wire or element to the PCB ground, the unit's range should vastly increase! Be sure to route the audio and power wires 90 degrees away from the antenna elements... Cheap? Yes! Effective? Yes, according to "Mr. Tony"! I'll be experimenting further and will report my findings on range, etc. Oh, by the way, the little receivers are HOT! As mentioned before, they tune the entire FM BCB and have great audio in both mono and stereo and are 1/3 the size of a walkman-style receiver. Lotsa uses here folks-you can use the TX as a station, use the RX as a stand alone receiver for about-town stuff, or as a monitor for the station as you work around the house, to monitor your VCR or computer audio outputs so as not to bother anyone, your video game [as it was intended!] - or whatever! With batteries, either unit only weighs a few ounces. On the wild side, a good tech should take the microwatts the "Silent Play" TX puts out, build a small RF buffer and bump up the power to a few milliwatts - keep it under 100 mw!

Whew! The possibilities keep flowing- what a project! More later - Yo says her head is spinning with my typing! Hasta la vista! de Bud.
